

RAISING BILINGUAL KIDS

IDEAS AND REMINDERS

FOR DAYS WHEN YOU NEED THEM

01

Any Spanish is better than no Spanish at all. It doesn't have to be perfect or complicated - it has to be in Spanish.

02

A picture book is worth more than a thousand words they don't understand.

03

Music is language glue. It sticks in their brains. Sing, sing, sing!

04

Children all over the world are learning English from TV and movies. Although in general screen time should be limited, video has its moments.

05

They know more than you think they do.

06

They can't NOT learn. It is what children do. They will benefit from whatever you do today, so keep it simple.

07

Inertia is a powerful force. So is momentum. Doing something today is your best chance of doing something tomorrow.

08

Happy kids learn, so let your child decide what to do. Whether it is blowing bubbles, shooting baskets, cooking or shopping online, throw in some Spanish and everyone wins.

09

Don't sweat the details. Your anxiety is contagious. Stay positive and confident.

10

Every day matters, but no one day matters in the long run.

11

Tomorrow is another day!
